

Environmental Policy

Placewell Group brings inspiration, innovation, and intelligence to the commercial built environment – creating ecosystems within which communities can thrive. Our companies include Geyer, a strategic design consultancy, and Valmont, intelligent construction delivery.

Placewell Group has developed, implemented, and maintained an Integrated Management System (IMS) with the aim of improving the environmental performance and effectiveness in the design and delivery of projects. We are committed to satisfying all applicable requirements, compliance obligations, protection of environment and prevention of pollution. We will provide necessary resources to support this commitment.

Our Environmental Policy strives to:

- Provide strategic direction for our IMS by considering the risks and opportunities resulting from relevant internal and external issues, environmental aspects, and impacts, needs and expectations of interested parties, legislative requirements and other requirements.
- Develop, implement and maintain our IMS that complies with the requirements of relevant national and international standards, applicable legislation, regulations, codes of practice and industry best practice
- Establish systems to monitor, review and evaluate our environmental performance by setting and periodic review of strategic objectives and targets.
- Consider environmental and sustainability requirements in all our processes, products and services from design to delivery by selecting and using environmentally friendly materials and energy-efficient equipment, reducing wastage and influencing interested parties accordingly.
- Provide a continuous program of information and training to ensure our employees and external service providers actively contribute to the achievement of our strategic objectives.
- Investigate and analyse environmental incidents and near-misses to prevent future incidents and near-misses from reoccurring.
- Encourage employees and external service providers to participate actively and contribute to the continual improvement of our IMS.

This policy is communicated to personnel working for and on behalf of Placewell Group and is available to interested parties as required.
